3D Systems Adds IMSI/Design To Its Reseller Network

- Retail CAD Leader Brings Affordable 3D Printers To Its Users -

ROCK HILL, South Carolina, October 12, 2011 – 3D Systems Corporation (NYSE:DDD) announced today the appointment of IMSI/Design, a leading provider of retail CAD solutions, including award-winning TurboCAD[®], as an authorized channel partner. With a qualified team of experienced engineers and support professionals, IMSI/Design offers their users immediate access to the entire lineup of 3D Systems' personal 3D printers.

"We are very pleased to add IMSI/Design, an experienced and proven retail channel partner, to our growing network of professional 3D content-to-print solutions resellers. The IMSI/Design team is highly qualified and well positioned to deliver the combined value of integrated CAD and 3D printer solutions," said Andrew McLaren, Director of Sales and Marketing, BFB for 3D Systems.

"If you design in 3D, like many of our TurboCAD[®] users do, it just makes so much sense to also print in 3D," said Robert Mayer, Chief Operating Officer of IMSI/Design. "Working with 3D Systems, we've put together some really terrific PC and Mac packages that are perfect for professional designers, hobbyists, and students alike."

About 3D Systems Corporation
